

Learning resources

The Defence Industry Skills Unit is coordinating the design and development of high-quality learning resources to support engineering-related courses and projects offered in schools, TAFE and university.

The resources are taking a variety of forms such as facilitation guides, project briefs, physical resource kits, models, videos and podcasts.